Dear Parents

Thank you to Tammy Muller and her enthusiastic band of helpers who assisted with the sausage sizzle and cake stall on Election Day (November 29)! Thanks also to the many families who contributed cakes to the stall.

Congratulations to all Hoottime participants and thanks to the staff and parents who have given so generously of their time to coach the teams! A very special highlight will be the 5/6 girls team who will play their final against Rowville Primary School on Sunday 14 December at Hi Sense Arena!

On Monday I will be attending the International Competitions and Assessment for Schools (ICAS) Medal Presentation Ceremony which will be held at the Melbourne Convention Centre. Bryan C (Year 3) achieved the top score in Victoria for Science and will receive a University of New South Wales (UNSW) medal. Congratulations Bryan!

On Wednesday 10 December we will be having the final SRI concert at The Edge Church (10 am). This event will be conducted entirely by SRI students and instructors. Following this the staff will provide morning tea for all our wonderful parent helpers. Late in the morning the students will have the opportunity to work with their 2015 classmates.

Foundation Fire Education

This term Foundation have been learning about fire safety and education. We had two very exciting visits from the Nunawading fire brigade.

Crawl down low, and GO, GO, GO!

Stop, drop, cover, roll.

Foundation learnt about who to call when there is a fire and what to do. They also learnt about the various parts of a fire engine and what they do in order to help people.

Wurundjeri Stories at Pound Bend, Warrandyte

Recently Grade 4 students enjoyed an excursion to Pound Bend Reserve, Warrandyte to complement our classroom learning about early Australia history. We were guided by Uncle Bill and Mandy Nicholson, descendants of the local Aborigines, along a signage trail which tells the history, culture, traditional life and beliefs of their people, the Wurundjeri. They also brought with them traditional artefacts to show us. Our excursion was supported by Manningham City Council.

Here are some reflections and photos from the day:

Something interesting I learnt was that when aboriginal babies were born they are carried in a wooden bowl. They are wrapped or lying on a possum skin. Every year as you get older your tribe adds a patch of possum skin to your birth possum skin. In winter when it is cold you wear it skin on the outside and fur on the inside to stay nice and warm.

Lacey S 4F

I learnt that the actual name of the Yarra River is 'Birraring River.' Birrarung means 'river of mists,' because when you go camping you would see mist dance on the river. On the day I enjoyed painting myself with ochre. Ochre is a chalky rock you grind with a grinding stone and you mix it with water. It is like a paint. You can have purple ochre, red ochre and a variety of other colours.

Samantha T. 4F

I learnt that the Aborigines went to the top of the valley and whirled their woomera (aboriginal version of the telephone) around and it would echo and signal that there was a corroboree, meeting or gathering happening. This was the invitation for neighbouring tribes. The Aborigines would snap a spear in half to symbolise that they would not harm anyone.

Eleanor M. 4F

Wurundjeri Stories at Pound Bend, Warrandyte

I enjoyed Pound Bend because it had a lot of heritage and history about when the Aborigines were first here. I also learnt that when a baby is born it gets passed through the smoke from a fire to clean the body of the baby. I found that fascinating.

Zoe G. 4F

On the excursion to Pound Bend I learnt that in 1851 the Europeans went to find gold in Warrandyte. They blew up a hole in the rock to make a long tunnel.

Did you know? Aborigines thought gold was useless because it was of no value to them. It was a soft metal and they couldn't make weapons from it. They used to throw it away if they found it!

Alexander A. 4F

Pound Bend excursion was great because I liked putting some ochre on my face and pretending to hunt for kangaroos in the Aboriginal dance we were doing. I liked the stories about the Yarra River and how the European people made the tunnel by blowing up the rock so they could find gold.

Samuel K. 4F

I enjoyed going down to the old tunnel that the Europeans made in 1870 by blowing up the rock. It was really interesting to see the water flowing so fast. I had an awesome time on the Pound Bend excursion!

Kiara A. 4F

Three interesting things I found out are:

*In 1851 the Europeans blew up rock to make a tunnel at Pound Bend on the Yarra River!

The juice of a fern stops mosquito bites from itching.

Babies were wrapped in possum skin when they were born.

Kaleb D. 4F

Wurundjeri Stories at Pound Bend, Warrandyte

Today at Pound Bend Reserve I learnt that ochre is a stone. It is ground into powder then water is added and mixed into a paste. Ochre is used as a body paint by Aborigines. Mandy and Uncle Bill, our hosts, let us paint ourselves to show us what they do for a ceremony.
Tarryn D. 4B

I learnt that it is respectful to Aboriginal culture and our guide Bill to call him Uncle Bill.
Lachlan C. 4B

I learnt that the Aborigines make traps to catch eels because they are too slippery to catch with bare hands.
Tallulah C. 4B

I really enjoyed learning about plants that could help you feel better. Bracken from a fern was useful when you had a mosquito bite, to stop the itch. If you smelt eucalyptus leaves it would make you feel better when you had a cold.
Ruby M. 4B

I learnt that the origin of AFL football was from an Aboriginal game called marngrook. I also learnt that the football was made from possum skin, there were no teams, no scores, just kicking and marking.
Luke L. 4B

My highlight at Pound Bend was the ochre body paint. We all got to try it on our faces. It was weird putting it on! I learnt that ochre body paint shines in the dark if you are near a fire. Europeans thought that Aborigines were skeletons when they were dancing at night time.
Anson T. 4B

Wurundjeri Stories at Pound Bend, Warrandyte

Something I found very interesting was that when you were born you received a special totem of an animal. You can't eat or hunt that animal as it would be disrespectful but you were allowed to wear that animal's skin.

Jieh Ni K. 4B

Today we went to Pound Bend and I learnt about Aborigines and how they lived. The thing that shocked us the most was about the Stolen Generation. The Europeans took the Aboriginal children away from their mums and it was sad.

Colin M. 4B

At Pound Bend Reserve I learned how to make ochre body paint. It was really fun and easy to make, and it looked awesome on our skin. I thought I should try something that the aborigines used to do.

Harrison B. 4B

My highlight was putting ochre body paint on. Something I learned was that when you catch an eel you need to bite its head so it doesn't escape because it is slippery. An interesting fact is that the tunnel at Pound Bend was built to help find gold.

Niki R. 4B

Wurundjeri Stories at Pound Bend, Warrandyte

Something I thought that was memorable was that the aboriginal women wove traps for the men to trap eels with. They would put the trap in the water with bait at the end then the eel would swim through and get trapped.

Saina D. 4M

What I found interesting from the excursion was that a wedge-tailed eagle called Bunjil created the Wurundjeri people. The three feathers on Bunjil's tail represent land, life and law.

Ashley H. 4M

I enjoyed putting ochre body paint on. It was really fun, especially when we got to do the traditional dance. All the girls did the actions of rocking a baby, picking fruit, sweeping then starting a fire. The boys acted as hunters and carried the animal they caught to the fire to eat.

Marwa A. 4M

I really enjoyed playing with the possum-skin football (marngrook) and pretending to go hunting for animals in the traditional dance.

Ashton M. 4M

In 1870 at Pound Bend, Warrandyte a tunnel was built to connect two parts of the river. This was so they could mine and pan for gold.

Markus L. 4M

Wurundjeri Stories at Pound Bend, Warrandyte

I thought the story about the animal totems was interesting because the aborigines are given one at birth. They could not eat their own totem animal or hunt it.

Jaimee M. 4M

I enjoyed the dancing because it was fun when we had to pretend to throw a spear. After that we saw a kookaburra and a lizard.

Murley M. 4M

I really enjoyed the ochre body paint and the dancing. The possum-skin coat was amazing.

Alyssa B. 4M

At Pound Bend I enjoyed doing the traditional dance. I played the clapping sticks. We got to see a marngrook which is an early football the aborigines used to play with.

Ella M. 4M

The Pound Bend Reserve is situated on a horse-shoe shaped part of the Yarra (Birrarrung) River which provided fertile summer hunting, fishing and bush tucker for aborigines for thousands of years, up to 1870. When gold was discovered at Warrandyte, a tunnel was mined through the rock to divert the river and traditional aboriginal life here was lost. Take your family for a picnic and enjoy walks along the signage trail, the river and see the tunnel. This is our local history!

Dear family and friends of the Donburn school community.

On behalf of the School Council I have written to Peter Greenwell the Regional Manager of DEECD and requested he visit the school to discuss.

The School Council hopes this meeting will assist to expedite the priority given to these capital works.

CANTEEN ROSTER PLEA

Hi everyone,

I cannot believe that we are nearly at the end of the year and I am starting to plan for next year.

I would like to take the opportunity to "THANK" everyone who has volunteered this year and helped the school canteen out in so many ways. Whether it be cutting up lettuce, serving children over the counter or cutting up hot dog rolls, I really could not do it without you. I am going to miss every single mum who is not returning next year for various reasons. Thank you to all the wonderful mums and the four dads who have selflessly given up their time to help out at our canteen.

2015 is just around the corner and this brings me to ask for volunteers for next year. I know that we are all busy, but it is for just a few hours once a month. The canteen runs on Monday, Wednesday and Friday. Any help would be appreciated, it is a flexible roster and we can accommodate your needs. You can team up with a friend, or split a shift between friends. You don't have to worry about being on your own as I will always be there. You will meet some new people, have a laugh and enjoy a coffee and sample lunch from our new menu; (now that's an offer too good to refuse). Helpers get their lunch for free. Please consider volunteering, it can be mums, dads, grandparents, aunties or carers.

If you are not ready to volunteer permanently, you may consider putting your name down as an emergency helper. There are times when one of our rostered mums may have to cancel due to sickness or other commitments, so it would be great to have someone whom I could call on, it may never happen, but at least I have an option. School canteens can only run with volunteer help, please think about getting involved and not waiting for someone else who is waiting for someone else to put their hand up.

If you would like to text me I will contact you ASAP, my number is: 0434 140 739 or I can be found in the canteen.

Thank you

Vitina Bakker
